Ingalls' Recital.

One of the big social as well as musical events of the week was Mrs. Arthur Burdette Ingalls' recital on Tuesday evening. Before a house full to the doors of Honolulu society folk, was given one of the best amateur programs ever presented to such an audience before. Mrs. Ingalls was at her best and she played with rare feeling and understanding. This, together with the splendid poise of her stage appearance, made listening to her very pleasing indeed. The stage was most beautifully decorated. The tall embankment or screen at the left was one mass of maidenhair fern, while a huge ball of this fern hung in the center of the background. Another great mass of maidenhair concealed the grand piano. This beautiful background harmonized so perfectly with the work of the musicians as to seem to be part of the interpretation.

The program opened with Beethoven's quartet in C minor, rendered by Mrs. Ingalls, Mrs. Ross and the Misses Hopper. This selection is quite heavy but was splendidly done. For the final number Mrs. Ingalls played Chopin-Sarasate "Nocturne in E Flat," followed by Wieniawski's "Valse Caprice." Mr. Isenberg sang several charming songs, winning his audience easily. Mrs. Elsa Cross Howard assisted the soloists in a highly commendable manner. Mrs. Howard has the rare faculty of plunging her identity into that of her soloist; that is, she never attempts a solo herself when she is accompanying.

A great many lovely gowns were seen in the audience and these, with the brightly gowned young ushers, added a touch of brilliancy to the scene.

The young ladies who ushered were: the Misses Margaret Center, Thelma Murphy, Rosamond Swamy, Jessie Kennedy, Harriet Lucas, Mary Lucas, Sara Lucas, Myrtle Schuman, Muriel Howatt, Pauline Schaefer and Rose Herbert.

The following were the patronesses: Mrs. Walter F. Frear, Mrs. C. B. T. Moore, Mrs. Richard Ivers, Mrs. F. H. French, Mrs. John Waterhouse, Mrs. James Wilder, Mrs. H. M. von Holt, Mrs. L. Tenney Peck, Mrs. Robert L. Lewis, Mrs. F. J. Lowrey, Mrs. Willard Brown, Mrs. C. M. Cooke, Mrs. Sanford B. Dole, Mrs. F. M. Swamy, Mrs. C. B. Cooper, Mrs. Edward Carpenter, Mrs. J. P. Cooke, Mrs. Sara Newcomb, Mrs. W. L. Hopper, Mrs. W. R. Castle, Mrs. Arthur Wall, Mrs. E. W. Peterson, Mrs. J. A. Kennedy, Mrs. Jefferson McCann, Mrs. J. A. McCandless.

Moani Music Club.
The Moani Music Club met last Saturday afternoon and the following delightful program was enjoyed.

Sonata	Jeannette Janett	Mozart
	Thelma Rothwell
Waltz	Stella Hoogs	Moscowski

Alutra's Dance	Genevieve Young	Grieg
	Gertrude Turner

After this program, Miss Aule Yates of Schofield favored the girls with several violin selections, among which were Beethoven's minuet, and "The Shepherd's Dance." Miss Yates is a very accomplished musician and her playing was considered a great treat by the girls. Among those present were Genevieve Young, Thelma Rothwell, Gertrude Turner, Dorothy Hoogs, Stella Hoogs, Myrtle Schuman and Jeannette Janett.

A Coming Wedding.
Miss E. Estelle Barnes has set the 28th of April as the date for her marriage to Mr. Chester Britton Gaze. The wedding will take place at the "Homestead," at 8 o'clock. Dr. Doremeau Scudder officiating. There is a bit of sentiment connected with this latter fact, for it was at dinner at Dr. Scudder's home that the two first met. As it was Dr. Scudder, who introduced them, they have decided that it should be Dr. Scudder who marries them. Miss Esther Erickson will act as bridesmaid, and Mr. A. E. Larimer will be best man. Miss Barnes will be attended by Miss Ruth Benedict, Miss Hazel Kellogg and Miss Inez Underhill. Mrs. Elsa Cross Howard will play and Miss Bertha Kemp of Kawaiahao will sing. About 75 will be invited.

Country Club Dance.
Last Wednesday evening, another one of the informal and enjoyable dances at the Country Club took place and about a hundred and fifty of Honolulu society folk were there. It was a lovely night and the little club house crouched there in the valley, looked very picturesque. Indeed, the bright gowns and gay bursts of laughter gave the appearance of a gala occasion.

Several dinner parties took place previous to the dance. Mrs. C. C. von Hamm entertained ten at dinner, Mr. Charles Deering had eight guests at his table, Mr. and Mrs.

Miss Hoffman expects to stay a short while in San Francisco of course, but most of her time will be spent up in the Santa Cruz mountains, hiking, fishing and "roughing it." She will probably be gone about five months, returning sometime in September.

Benefit Garden Party.
Next Friday afternoon from 3 to 7 o'clock at the home of Rear-admiral C. B. T. Moore in Manoa Valley, the Navy Relief Association will give a garden party. This party is in the nature of a benefit to raise funds for the needy families of deceased navy men. As this is the first time that the people have been asked to contribute towards this worthy cause, the appeal will undoubtedly meet with a response. The small number of navy women in this port are working hard to make the affair a success, socially and financially. No soliciting from stores or from firms has been done and private people and personal friends are helping most generously.

The following program will form the concert next Friday:
Autumn ..... Moscowski
Mrs. Elsa Cross Howard

a huge success. With the halls taxed to its utmost capacity, the students were inspired to do their best, and the little comedy went off with a snap and "go" that was contagious. The audience began to titter and smile audibly with the first entrance of "Dumps," Miss Dorothy Raab, and did not become serious again during the rest of the performance.

The play, as announced on the program, is original, having been written by two girls of the sophomore class. The scene is laid in a girls' college and the plot deals with the dance, which is to be held the next night, and which "Patty" cannot attend unless she passes an exam, and the arrival of the "Mysterious Dr. Burdon." This mysterious personage managed to keep in obscurity until almost the end of the play, during which time the audience was allowed to "wonder." Miss Dorothy Raab as Mary Jane Jordan, or "Dumps," as the girls called her, carried the burden of the comedy. She was very natural and very comical in her role as the fat and sentimental freshman, and had her audience giggling with her most of the time. Miss Bernice Smith, as Patty Wayson, the student who has such a time studying with a girl like Mary Jane around, was very convincing.

The scene in Patty's room was very attractive, being a very good representation of a girl's room in college. The making of the fudge in the chafing-dish in the first act was very interesting. An orchestra composed of a number of the men of the college played and sang before the curtain went up and between acts, adding considerably to the pleasure of the evening.

The play is to be repeated tonight and if the students draw as large a crowd then as last night, they will more than secure the sum they are endeavoring to raise for the tennis court and piano.

Mrs. Mountford S. Wilson, the popular society woman of San Francisco, was an arrival on the Siberia Monday, in company with Mr. and Mrs. Henry Foster Dutton, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Irving Scott and Miss Virginia Joliffe. Irwin place at Waikiki.

Miss Cadwell's Recital.
